

Danni Lee is a singer-songwriter and multi-instrumentalist based in Portland, Oregon. Known for her live performance energy and witty stage banter, Danni Lee's shows combine a taste of stand-up comedy with a main course of live music. Between sending her ukulele through electric guitar pedals, or playing her acoustic guitar with a violin bow, her latest album, Truth Teller (October 2021), breaks the rules about how instruments are "supposed" to be played. Whether you laugh or cry—or both—her soul-baring and thoughtful lyrics will be stuck in your head for weeks and weeks.
